"A vision for arthritis care in BC"

The current model for arthritis care in BC results in fragmented care, duplication of resources, inequities between urban/rural locations and a focus in inflammatory arthritis over osteoarthritis. We can do better. I will present a model for arthritis care that will improve access for patients earlier in the disease course, be equitable across the province and be amenable to outcomes research and other research activities. The talk will provide a basis for ongoing discussion and input from consumers, clinicians, researchers and government.
